

Clear the way with the North America Listed Mark

SGS is a nationally recognized testing laboratory ready to make your certification transfer easy

PRODUCT SAFETY CERTIFICATION

Certifications are mandatory in the US and Canada, and some voluntary testing is required by retailers and/or consumers. SGS is qualified to certify electrical and electronic products in North America under the OSHA National-ly Recognized Testing Laboratory (NRTL) program and The Standards Council of Canada (SCC) program. Our certification will help you gain a competitive advantage in your markets of interest. All products that have been certified by SGS, under the NRTL/ SCC scope, will bear our North America Listed Mark. The SGS North America Listed Mark allows you to demonstrate that your product fulfills relevant and applicable product safety requirements for the US and Canada.

TYPES OF PRODUCTS TESTED

SGS frequently certifies these following products:

- Batteries
- Laboratory and Measurement Equipment

- Information Technology Equipment
- Audio Visual
- Medical Equipment
- Products for Hazardous Locations and Potentially Explosive Environments
- Household Appliances
- Lighting

SGS CERTIFICATION TRANSFER PROGRAM

SGS makes transferring your certifications easy. When a company wants to do a certification transfer, retesting may not be required as long as the product has not changed and holds a valid and current certification with another NRTL. SGS can perform a fast and simple assessment to confirm your product meets all current standards then certify your product with the SGS North America Listed Mark. SGS will routinely oversee your products to ensure product compliance with any/all relevant and applicable safety standards, so you never have to worry about it again.

All this is done without a listing transfer fee, avoiding the expense and hassle you face with other laboratories.

BENEFITS OF THE CERTIFICATION TRANSFER PROGRAM

- No Annual Certification Fee
- No Listing Transfer Fee

- No Direct Imprint Fee
- No Labelling Fee
- Only TWO Factory Inspections a year, when permissible by OSHA Standards
