When you need to be sure

SGS Food Forum is a global knowledge-sharing platform, uniting regulators, manufacturers, retailers & hospitality leaders to address the most pressing challenges in food safety and sustainability.

About SGS Food Forum

After the huge success of our first Food Forum in Dubai in 2025, SGS is proud to bring back the SGS Food Forum to the Middle East for the second time.

The SGS Food Forum has been conducted many times across the globe, bringing together regulators, manufacturers, retailers, and hospitality leaders to share expertise and explore the future of food safety.

Now, following the overwhelming response from the region last year, we return to Dubai to continue building momentum for innovation, traceability and sustainability in the food sector.

Key benefits of joining the SGS Food Forum:

- Be part of the Middle East's premier food safety forum.
- Learn global best practices tailored for GCC businesses.
- Network with 130+ of senior professionals across the food value chain.
- Connect directly with regulators, SGS auditors, and industry leaders.
- Discover real case studies and actionable strategies for your organization.
