

SGS TÜRKİYE INDEPENDENCE, IMPARTIALITY AND CONFIDENTIALITY COMMITMENT

The fundamental feature that distinguishes us from our competitors in conformity assessment activities is our continuous commitment to self-improvement and adapting to the technological era. We owe our current position to this core characteristic.

In the activities we conduct as a Type A inspection, surveillance, audit, certification body, testing and calibration laboratory:

- We commit to working in accordance with the principles of impartiality and confidentiality with all stakeholders,
- We commit to treating everyone equally,
- We will free our employees from commercial, financial, and other pressures that may influence their decisions.
- We will implement conformity assessment procedures in a manner that prevents interference by individuals and organizations outside the inspection body, testing / calibration laboratory, and certification activities,
- We will be independent from the parties to the issue; our organization and our employees will not engage in any activity that would conflict with our independence of decisions and accuracy regarding conformity assessment activities, and in particular, we will not be directly involved in the design, manufacturing, supply, assembly and use of materials for which conformity assessment activities are carried out by us, as well as materials that are in competition,
- As SGS, within the legal and ethical framework, we commit not to disclose information and documents obtained during the service to third parties until there is a situation preventing everyone from knowing. We will not disclose it to third parties under any circumstances until it becomes known to everyone; we will not use it for our own or third-party benefits or purposes for gaining an advantage.

We hereby commit to these principles.
