

SGS TURKEY INDEPENDENCE, IMPARTIALITY AND CONFIDENTIALITY STATEMENT

Our main feature that distinguishes us from our competitors in the fields of - inspection, verification, testing and certification is our continuous improvement and our effort to be the best in our field by adapting to the age of technology. We owe our achievement to this point with this basic feature.

In our activities we will show as A type inspection body, test laboratory and certification body;

- We will work in accordance with the principles of impartiality and confidentiality with all our stakeholders,
- We will treat everyone equally,
- We will free our employees from commercial, financial and other pressures that may affect their decisions.
- We will implement the conformity assessment procedures in a manner that will not interfere with the results by persons and organizations outside the inspection body, test laboratory and certification,
- We will apply the test procedures in a way that the results are not interfered with by people and organizations outside of the test laboratories,
- We will be independent from the parties to the subject, that our organization and our employees will not engage in any activities that will contradict our independence with their decisions and accuracy regarding our conformity assessment activities (inspection, verification, testing and certification), in particular, we will not be directly related to the design, manufacture, supply, assembly and use of materials that are certified or inspected and tested by us, and materials that are in competition,
- As SGS, within the framework of legal and ethical rules, we will not give the information and documents we obtain in the process of our service to third parties until they are known to everyone and when there is a situation that prevents them from being known to everyone; that we will not use it for the purpose of gaining self or third parties benefits,

We commit.
